

OFACP Policy:

Implementing Ban on Lobbyists Serving on Advisory Committees

October 2017

Background

On June 18, 2010, former President Barack Obama issued a Presidential Memorandum announcing a continued commitment to reduce the influence of special interests by keeping federal advisory committees and boards free of federally registered lobbyists. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) was directed to issue final guidance to implement this directive following a public comment period. On October 5, 2011, OMB published "Final Guidance on Appointment of Lobbyists to Federal Boards and Commissions." The prohibition on the appointment of federally registered lobbyists applies to appointments and re-appointments made after June 18, 2010.

The prohibition on the appointment of lobbyists applies to individuals who are federally registered lobbyists, and for the purposes of this policy, includes any individual who is subject to the registration and reporting requirements of the Lobbying Disclosure Act of 1995 (LDA), as amended (2 USC 1605). The entities or groups covered include any board, commission, council, delegation, conference, panel, task force, or other similar group or subgroup regardless of whether it is subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA). At NIH, this includes, but is not limited to all NIH/HHS National Advisory Councils (NACs), Program Advisory Committees (PACs), Boards of Scientific Counselors (BSCs), Initial/Integrated Review Groups (IRGs), Special Emphasis Panels (SEPs), and any subcommittee or workgroup of one of these committees. In addition, the policy applies regardless of whether the appointment is required or permitted by law or regulation, including an appointment at the discretion of the department or agency. The ban on the appointment of lobbyists includes workgroups and subcommittees for any advisory committee, which may or may not require formal appointment. Accordingly, standing members of NACs, PACs, BSCs, IRGs, or other advisory committees, as well as temporary members on IRGs or other advisory committees and SEP members, are included. This requirement also applies to members of subcommittees and workgroups.

The prohibition does not apply to individuals who are invited to attend, on an ad hoc basis, meetings of NACs, BSCs and PACs. Note: Ad hoc attendees cannot vote, make motions, or count towards a quorum for a meeting.

NIH Policy

Implementation of this policy is delegated to each Institute/Center (IC) at NIH that operates and/or manages a federal advisory committee and any workgroups or subcommittees reporting back to that "parent" committee.

Responsibilities and duties required may be assigned to multiple individuals within an Institute or Center.

This policy makes no provisions for waivers, and waivers will not be permitted under this policy.

Implementation Procedures

It must be clearly communicated to all appointed members that if their positions or other activities require them to be federally registered lobbyists, it would necessitate their resignation or removal from serving on an NIH/HHS federal advisory committee if appointed after June 18, 2010.

Nomination of Standing Members

IC staff involved in managing an NIH/HHS advisory committee must ensure that individuals nominated to serve as standing committee members are not federally registered lobbyists. This must be accomplished by (1) requiring that the nominee certify that he or she is not a federally registered lobbyist; or (2) checking Federal lobbyist database(s) to confirm that each nominee is not registered as a lobbyist. IC Committee Management Officers will include certification forms or statements in the nomination package (worksheet or other formal documentation) indicating the nominees included on a nomination slate are not federally registered lobbyists. This procedure applies to all committees that have formally nominated /appointed members (NACs, PACs, BSCs, and IRGs).

Current Members

IC staff involved in managing NIH/HHS advisory committees must ensure, at least annually, that committee members are not federally registered lobbyists. This must be accomplished by requiring that the member certify that he or she is not a federally registered lobbyist. Certification forms must be retained and kept with the official committee file.

Temporary/Special Emphasis Panel Members/Subcommittee or Workgroup Members

IC staff involved in using Temporary and/or Special Emphasis Panel members must ensure, prior to attendance at a meeting, that each individual is not a federally registered lobbyist. This must be accomplished by requiring that the member certify, prior to attendance at a meeting, that he or she is not a federally registered lobbyist. Certification forms must be retained with the official meeting file.

This policy is effective immediately.
